

Russia is at once the most military and the least peaceful of modern nations. No one reason for its disturbed and dangerous condition is more weighty than the fact that, for its population of 110,000,000, it extends $5,000,000 for public instruction; while the State of New York, with 6,000,000 people, extends $11,000,000 for public schools. Popular education is necessary to free government, while despotic government grows more perilous every year.

United States and Italy.
In writing to the Italian Government Secretary Blaine referring to his minister Baron Fava, clearly states his position and then indulges in a "Sermonette" which is of wide application. If only those who manage international affairs would be more patient!
"I have also informed him that in a matter of such gravity the Government of the United States would not permit itself to be unduly hurried; nor will it make answer to any demand until every fact essential to a correct judgment shall fully be ascertained through legal authority. The impatience of the aggrieved may be natural, but its indulgence does not always secure the most substantial justice."

Separate Cars.
The Legislatures of Texas and Arkansas have, by nearly unanimous votes, passed laws requiring separate railroad coaches for whites and blacks, following the example in this matter of Louisiana and other States. The New Orleans Time-Democrat has no doubt that all the other States of the South will pass a similar law, and that the Southern railroads will be compelled to provide separate cars for the races. The Time-Democrat declares that the prevailing public sentiment is in favor of the destruction, and adds: The law is not intended to be unfriendly to the negro or to work any hardship to him, for the railroads are required to provide him with first-class accommodations for first-class fare, but its purpose is to establish the relations which are to exist between the two races in the South. The States are willing to grant to the negro all his legal and political rights, but they will not live on terms of equality with him, and desire to be thrown with him as little as possible. The two races live side by side, but they must live distinct and separate, and the separate car law is simply an emphatic mode of laying down this proposition and answering the republican suggestions of social equality.—Baltimore Sun.

A Horse Kept in a Stall for Nine Years.

We have just received the fourteenth report of the American Humane Association, which was held in Nashville, Tennessee, last year. On the back of the cover is a picture of a horse which was kept in a stall for nine years. This horse was once valued at $200, and because he ran away the owner for revenge, shut him up in his barn and never permitted him to leave his stall. Strangers were excluded from entering the barn. Mr. D. G. Whitehead, the agent of the Milwaukee Humane Society, found this once beautiful sorrel horse, with fine long head, large hazel eyes and intelligence like a man, covered with bad sores, reduced to nothing but skin and bones, and the hoofs were nearly a foot long and had grown rocker-shaped. When the animal was untied for the first time in nine years, he hobbled out into the sunshine to nibble the green grass, and showed his gratitude by a low whinny. The owner of this cruelly treated animal was only fined $100 and costs; and again, the defendant sought revenge by suing Mr. Whitehead for retaining the horse which he had cut off. The judge decided that the Society should pay $100 and cost, which the Society did, and now own the feet.

The President's Opportunity.

The President has now the opportunity of rendering a service to civil reform and to the just and business-like management of Indian affairs such as is not likely to occur again. The country is persuaded, without reference to the question of the responsibility parties, that the frequent change of the officials in the Indian Bureau is positively calamitous in its effects. There is no department in which honesty, efficiency and certainty of tenure are so important, because there is none other in which the opportunities of jobbing and of personal gain at public cost are so numerous and so difficult of detection. The present Indian outbreak is the latest and must be the final confirmation of the judgement of condemnation upon the old system. It is bad and only bad in principle and theory. If it has proved good in practice at points, this has been due largely to good luck in the matter of appointments. There is no reason why the President should not at once extend the civil service rules so as to include all those positions in the Indian service to which they are applicable, and the spirit of the reform so as to cover the management of the entire service. No party advantage of any sort can be gained by the retention of the present system. Every public interest and every interest of the Indian urges the immediate extension of the civil service system to cover Indian officials. Why should not the President secure from the present Indian strife at least this one benefit.—From "The Christian Union," New York, January 22d, 1891.

Prof. Irving, son of the brilliant Edward Irving, the great preacher and friend of Carlyle, with all his wit, learning, power, is living in Tasmania, in an obscure and distant parish. His friend, the Rev. Robert Day, who lately visited him in "the bush," relates that when they sat down to dinner Irving took the head of the table, and gravely repeated Burns's grace:

Some have meat, and canna eat,
And some have name that want it;
But we have meat, and we can eat,
And see the Lord be thankit.

Judge J. D. Coles scores a victory for Prohibition by refusing liquor license to all dealers whose place of business are at stations with the Richmond & Danville R. R. and its branches under his jurisdiction. The judge said nine-tenths of the indictments made in his court from these railway points were due to whiskey and that numbers of deaths on the railroad recently were caused by the same agency and about these stations and that the public safety and the welfare of the traveling public demand that the sale of liquor at points where railroad employees could get it should be suppressed.—Raleigh Christian Advocate.

JOHN ALEXANDER, CONGAREE IRON WORKS, Columbia, S. C. Agent for

CHAPMAN'S PERPETUAL EVAPORATOR

THESE WORKS WERE ESTABLISHED in 1847 by Messrs. Geo. Sinclair and James Anderson and purchased by me in the year 1866, and from that time till now carried on successfully by myself. My friends and customers will bear witness of the large and stupendous jobs executed by me. It was at my works where the largest and almost only cast of the class ever executed in this city was done viz: the making of the pipes for the City Water Works in the year 1868.

My stock of patterns for ARCHITECTURAL WORK, COLUMNS for Store fronts, is large and various, and in KILLINGS for Balconies, Gardens, and elsewhere I have the latest variety and most modern patterns; many of these are patented and I have purchased the right for this State.
In the cutting I can furnish any patrons with STEAM ENGINES and BOILERS of any size and description. My CIRCULAR SAW MILLS have carried off the greatest variety of timber in any city, and in their construction I have taken pains to combine it with the most useful modern improvements. I have no flatter myself that my CIRCULAR SAW MILLS flatter every sawyer who works in my business.
The many orders I am steadily receiving for SUGAR CASE MILLS prove that the public appreciate the mills of my make, and so it is with my GRINDING FOR HORSE POWERS, OIL WHEELS, GRIST MILLS and other MACHINERY. I have the manufacturing rights of many PATENTS such as castings for cotton and iron, and four FED CUTTERS and other implements. I will be pleased to send my catalogue to any applicant, together with price list or estimate. My prices are moderate, and I assure the public that they are cheaper than those of Northern manufacturers, and that my work will compare favorably with that of any other maker.
Address,
John Alexander,
